Centurion

Complete protection for stent and balloon delivery systems

Centurion is a stent and balloon protector that, unlike conventional protectors, has a unique design to significantly reduce damage to stents and balloons during device assembly, packaging, transportation, catheter unloading and physician use.

Centurion exhibits superior protective characteristics to conventional protectors, significantly reducing damage to coated and uncoated stent and balloon delivery systems.

Centurion Benefits:

- Increases Product performance
- Prevents stent damage
- Protects drug coating
- Fully encases the catheter tip
- Ensures successful deployment
